

POLE DANCE & FITNESS POLICIES

REGISTERING

Only payment reserves your spot in class! If you register and fail to pay, you only inform the studio of your interest in class. A spot will not be reserved for you if you do not apply a form of payment.

You can opt-in to SMS reminders when booking a service. This courtesy is not automatically enabled.

WAITLIST

The studio Spaces app (available for iOS or Android) allows for students to place themselves on a waitlist when the class of interest is full. If a space becomes available in the previously full class, the open spot will be made available for 30 minutes exclusively to the first person on the list. They can choose to join the class or pass up the offer before the next person on the waitlist gets the opportunity to join the class. Each wait-listed student will receive an email notification and sign-ups will be honored on a first come, first served basis. If no one on the waitlist chooses to book the class, the spot becomes available to the general public.

DRESS

Beyond Pole Basics, please wear shorts and a tank top or sports bra to class as grip is very important in the performance of pole fitness. For your safety, do NOT apply any oil, lotion, gel, cream, or self-tanner prior to class as this makes the pole very difficult to grip. Please remove all jewelry and eyewear to protect the integrity of the brass poles and prevent damage to the studio equipment. You may wear exotic platform heels in class at the appropriate levels, however this is entirely optional.

PARKING

Parking is free and available on the East side of the building. There are two well-lit lots, one extending behind Six Paupers. I hope you're not hungry when you arrive because the smells from the restaurant can be quite enticing. In good/warm weather, you may enter behind the building via the fire escape to the balcony.

ARRIVAL & DEPARTURE

Please allow a few minutes before your first class start time to read and sign a studio waiver. If a previous class is still in session, you may wait in the hallway outside of the studio. If you are late for class, warm up without the group and join in when your body is warm. You may depart at any time once class has begun, but the studio will not offer a makeup of lost class time should you choose to leave early.

SAFETY

Any person who appears intoxicated or otherwise disruptive to the conduct of a class, private lesson, private party, or public studio event may - at the sole discretion of Floorplay Studio - be asked not to participate, forfeiting any deposits and payments made by that person for that class, private lesson, private party, or public studio event.

REFUNDS

We generally do not offer refunds on classes and packages. In cases such as moving out of state or debilitating illness, you may transfer your unused credits to another student (with the exception of Auto-Pay programs).

In consideration of the pandemic, a positive COVID-19 test result submitted via e-mail before the start of class or the start of the series to dance@floorplaystudio.com may result in a refund by request. Military deployment is also justification for a refund if request is submitted before the start of class or the start of the series. Credit will be issued if a series has already started.

DEGENERATED, JUDGEMENT-FREE ENVIRONMENT

The studio is LGBTQ-friendly and while certain programs are catered to womxn, any individual is welcome. All participants in studio programs are encouraged to embrace the creativity in all individuals and support the artistic soul within every human being while we collectively celebrate female culture.

We love that you want to hang out with us.

In order to get the most out of your experience, please remember the following...

1. Please leave your street shoes by the door. Exotic platform, pole dancing shoes are the only approved footwear allowed inside the studio for pole classes.
2. Bring only the items needed for class into the studio. Store belongings in designated cubbies. If your items are too large for the cubbies, keep obstructions at least six feet away from any pole.
3. Please turn your cell phones to "Do Not Disturb" during class time. If you need to take a call, do so in the hallway or on the balcony.
4. Phones and other media devices may be used for taking pictures and video only during playgrounds or "jam time" at the end of class. Make sure you do not record anyone else. [If another person is in the frame, you must receive verbal consent to film them each time]
5. Refrain from applying any kind of lotions, oils, gels, creams, or self-tanners since your last shower before class. This is not only dangerous for you but also threatens the safety of the next poler – oils and creams leave slippery residue on the floor and can cause injury/falls.

Addendum Sept 2019: It has come to our attention that such products also cause swelling of the floorboards and forced us to replace the planks prematurely in 2019. Help keep our costs low, preventing any increase in class package pricing by prepping for clean, dry skin in class.

6. Appropriate dress is required. See our website or ask a staff member if you are unsure of appropriate dress.
7. Do not touch the mirrors. As they age, the glass (especially at edges) becomes more delicate.
8. If you have any contagious ailments, please do not attend class. If you have pre-registered for a class, cancel 24 hours prior to the start of class to avoid losing your class credit.
9. Report any injuries to the instructor prior to the start of a class. Open wounds need to be properly bandaged to attend class.
10. You may not teach other students unless you are a certified instructor and have permission from the designated teacher for that class.
11. Please conduct yourself in accordance to your safety.
12. Students arriving more than 15 minutes late to class will not be admitted and agree to forfeit their class.
13. Please accurately assess your skill level. If unsure, see our leveling resource or ask a staff member. As a courtesy to all of our clients, please refrain from attending classes that are above or below your appropriate level. If you are an intermediate or advanced student that desires to take a beginner class, please do this as a walk in so that we may reserve our online sign-up spaces for those who would benefit most from a beginner-level class.
14. Do not perform moves above the current class you are attending. This distracts from learning material being presented in class at the time.
15. Please act with respect toward all students and staff. Disrespectful behavior will result in a warning. Repeated occurrences will result in immediate dismissal from the premise.

- Tuition is not altered due to missed classes
- Easily managed from your account - may be changed before your first class of a marked series
- Refunds are not given -- If attendance is canceled in advance, credit shall be marked toward your account that does not expire and is applicable towards all programs in the studio. You may also gift your credit if you move or become too ill to attend class.

Price Guarantee: While your account remains active, you shall never experience a price increase for group classes. We agree to charge you only the fees you signed up for. So, if you registered for classes in August 2022, you will keep the August 2022 pricing for as long as you remain active.

Our studio only accepts payment through an automated payment system. Monies are withdrawn from either a credit card, debit card, or checking account every month. You shall be billed every 30 days.

Classes do not roll over and may not be shared with or transferred to others.

There is at least a three-month commitment associated with AutoPay. You may hold or cancel your membership at any time after the minimum with seven days' written notice prior to your next expected billing date. You're also free to upgrade or downgrade your Class Card at any time with at least seven days' written notice. For example, if you register initially for 12 classes and you would like to downgrade to 8 per month at the current price point on the date of this change, just provide seven days' written notice prior to your next expected billing date and the minimum monthly commitment will renew.

Upgrading will not extend your contract.
